Sexy, surprising, and subversively wise, Babyji is the story of Anamika Sharma, a spirited student growing up in Delhi. At school she is an ace at quantum physics. At home she sneaks off to her parents' scooter garage to read the Kamasutra. Before long she has seduced an elegant older divorcée and the family servant, and has caught the eye of a classmate coveted by all the boys. With the world of adulthood dancing before her, Anamika confronts questions that would test someone twice her age. Ebullient, unfettered, and introducing one of the most charming heroines in contemporary fiction, Babyji is irresistible.

A Sexy, Subversive Novel About A Schoolgirl And Her Quest To Conquer Love And Life

A sexy, subversive novel about a schoolgirl and her quest to conquer love and life.

From the award-winning author of Babyji comes an utterly seductive tale of an aging writer whose involvement with a young woman forces him to face the eternal question of love. Prem Rustum, a famous but reclusive Indian author, has spent most of his life consumed with writing. Feeling the weight of his seventy-five years, he resolves to put down his pen and live a little. He ventures online where he finds Maya, an aspiring young novelist who has boldly posted her admiration for Prem's work. Captivated by her charm, Prem decides on impulse to join her in the City of Light. During the summer that follows, Maya brings Prem into direct confrontation with his mortality and desires through the awakening of new longings and the rekindling of old ones. Written with sureness of style and tempo, That Summer in Paris reflects on how art informs love, and love, literature.

Climbing the corporate ladder has never been easier—or more exhausting. Sex becomes André's obsession after his handsome supervisor Nathan beds the ambitious young executive-in-waiting. Enter Sybil, Nathan's sensual wife, who stakes her own claim on André, with neither husband nor wife aware of the other's involvement. With only a trusted miniplanner to aid him in balancing the intricate timetable of his cosmopolitan life, André juggles business and pleasure in comic combinations.

Vendela Vida's fearless, critically acclaimed fiction debut follows the unpredictable recovery of a young woman as she tries to make sense of her life after an encounter at gunpoint. Accosted one afternoon in Riverside Park by a man who doesn't want to die alone, Ellis, a young grad student, talks her way out of the situation by reciting poetry to her desperate captor. He lets her go, but is she free? Rejecting the overtures of her kind-hearted boyfriend, the police, and the suitors who would like to save her, Ellis finds herself unable to escape the event. She leaves the city to visit her family, joins her mother on a medical mission to the Philippines. When she returns, Ellis discovers something more about life—perhaps even how to take back her own.

A Brilliantly Told Story Of The Ordinary Yet Remarkable Relationships That Blood And Proximity Generate. This Saga Of A Delhi Family Seen Through The Eyes Of A Young Boy Has All The Expected Passions&Mdash;The Rivalries, The Betrayals, The Hatreds And The Odd Moments Of Love And Loyalty. It Is Dawesar&Rsquo;S Dispassionate And Detached Tone That Gives Family Values Its Extraordinary Power. Her Controlled Prose And Unflinching Gaze Cut Through The Lies And Hypocrisies, Boring Into The Very Bones Of Family Life. The Silent, Observant Boy Notes His Grandfather&Rsquo;S Consistent Meanness To His Sons And His Daughter, He Watches His Uncles&Rsquo;S Greed And Avariciousness, His Aunt&Rsquo;S Resigned Despair, His Cousin&Rsquo;S Determined Self-Destruction. But The Boy And His Parents Have Created Their Small Oasis Of Grace, Amid The Plywood And Plastic Of Their Mean Surroundings Are Love, Generosity And Respect. Dawesar&Rsquo;S Insights Are Profound And All The More Compelling For The Spare, Austere Quality Of Her Writing. This Is A Bold, Original Book From The Author Of That Summer In Paris, Babyji And The Three Of Us.

Cry Wolf saved Andrea's life, or that's how she likes to tell it. Forever in search of spiritual fulfillment, Andrea has rejected everything from religion to eating disorders, in favor of "I'm-with-the-band" style fanalicism, all centered on Cry Wolf, a brother-sister folk/rock duo with an eccentric hodgepodge of followers. When Andrea meets fellow groupie Jordan outside a concert, their connection is undeniable: Jordan is powerfully seductive, and Andrea is intrigued by Jordan's lawless ways. Their romance escalates as they follow Cry Wolf around the country, but as Jordan becomes increasingly manipulative and unreliable, Andrea begins to realize that her passion for Jordan has turned into yet another addiction. The first time Jordan leaves her, Andrea flees Los Angeles for Chicago, almost relieved, and almost ready to start fresh. But when Jordan arrives unannounced on Andrea's doorstep, Andrea can't help it; she's thrilled. Meet Andrea: tightly wound, mid-20s, teacher, hotter than she gives herself credit for, less clever than she believes. Meet Jordan: LA-skinny, ocean eyes, early-40s, perpetual undergraduate student, a liar who believes her own lies. Post-modern in form (lists, 3x5 cards, even the occasional screenplay), but classical in theme: a tale of a girl desperate for something like, but not quite love.

In these fifteen remarkable stories, M.F.K. Fisher, one of the most admired writers of our time, embraces the coming of old age. With a saint to guide us, she writes, perhaps we can accept in a loving way "the inevitable visits of a possibly nagging harpy like Sister Age" But in the stories, it is the human strength in the unavoidable encounter with the end of life that Fisher dramatizes so powerfully. Other themes—the importance of witnessing death, the marvelous resilience of the old, the passing of vanity—are all explored with insight, sympathy and, often, a sly wit.

"Drawing on her experience as an adult literacy tutor, Judith Frank's first novel traces the difficult and sometimes hilarious connection between two butches of different generations - a middle-class, thirty-something adult literacy teacher and her older, working-class student. With a disparate group of adult learners as the backdrop, Frank examines, with warmth and wit, the relationship between education and gender, class, and racial identity."--PUBLISHER.
